Resources for personal prayer

While we may not be able to meet for regular worship there are many resources which we can use to maintain times of prayer and bible study.

The Book of Common Prayer offers prayers and readings for all occasions and the orders of Morning and Evening Prayer can be read aloud in one's own home. The Psalter which is included in the Book of Common Prayer identifies a psalm or selection of psalms for each day of the month.

Radio and television

The BBC offers a Daily Service on Radio 4 Long Wave every day at 9.45am as well as Sunday Worship at 8.10am on Sunday mornings on Radio 4. There is Choral Evensong on Radio 3 every Wednesday at 3.30pm which is repeated on Sundays at 3.00pm. In addition, Songs of Praise is televised on BBC1 at 1.15pm on Sunday. Programmes are also available on BBC iPlayer or the BBC Sounds app.

Digital Resources

There are several apps available for smartphones and tablets including the Church of England Daily Prayer app which offers Morning Prayer, Evening Prayer and Compline in either Contemporary or Traditional Language. Time to Pray similarly offers an Order for Prayer During The Day as well as an order for Night Prayer. The app Pray as you go offers a short daily audio meditation with music. The Church of England publishes a Prayer for the Day both as audio and text on its website as well as on several social media platforms. Many Church of England resources can be accessed through smart speakers such as Alexa or Google home by asking 'Alexa open The Church of England' or 'Hey Google, talk to the Church of England.' As well as answering questions, the apps can be asked to read a range of prayers along with such things as the Apostle's Creed and The Beatitudes.

Chester Cathedral will provide worship through online streaming at 5.30pm on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays and at 10am on Sundays.

There are many Bible Study resources available as apps or on the web. The ones which we have mainly been using for Exploring the Word of God can be found on the following websites:

Yale Bible Study yalebiblestudy.org

The Bible Project bibleproject.com

St John's Timeline stjohnstimeline.co.uk

Finally, we can keep in touch with each other by telephone, email or text messaging.

Thought for the month

Looking ahead

For those of us who like planning ahead, this year has not been one of the best. In fact, it has been a disaster. Unless you actually took your summer holiday in December, my guess is that you have had to cancel it, along with your Easter holiday and all those short breaks you had promised yourself. This year has become the year of abandoned plans and cancelled events.

It is not just our personal plans that have been affected. We have had to rethink events at church. Lower Peover Fete, which I have always been told has never had to be cancelled despite unpredictable English summers, has had to go by the board. Before the end of July, we will welcome a new vicar, but it won't be at all as we had planned. Less than six months ago some of us were talking about a celebratory service with refreshments to follow. As it is, Father Murray will probably be introduced to us by Zoom. Our plans have had to change.

It is at times like these that we realise that we don't have complete control so we have to put our future into the hands of one greater than us, one whose plans we can rely on. In the book of Jeremiah we find God saying to the people of Israel "I know the plans I have for you, ... plans for your welfare and not for harm, to give you a future with hope." (Jer. 29:11). They were in a fairly grim situation at that point, having been deported to Babylon, away from their homes and their place of worship. Yet they were told that God had all the plans in hand so they could focus on getting through their time in exile.

We have not quite been spending our time in exile, but we have certainly had to be isolated. As I write, restrictions are easing. The virus has not gone away and probably won't for some time so we are conscious of having to be cautious. We may wonder whether we should be planning ahead. But soon we will be told that we can come together again as a congregation to worship. Father Murray will be here. There will be a lot to do but I feel sure that God has plans for our church. Our challenge is to make sure that our plans coincide with God's plans. Then we can work together to grow in faith as a Christian community in this parish.

FINANCE

As you may be aware, a substantial part of our income is received through collections at our regular services. Given the current circumstances we will not be able to receive such donations so we would be grateful if you would consider making your usual contribution by cheque or by standing order.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Lower Peover and Over Peover: appointment of Incumbent [1408 & 1411]

The Bishop of Chester has accepted the nomination of the Diocesan Board of Patronage and the University of Manchester, the joint patrons, of the Reverend Murray Allan Leonard Aldridge-Collins, Bachelor of Science, to be Incumbent of the benefice of St Oswald, Lower Peover and St Lawrence, Over Peover in the Deanery of Knutsford.

Mr Aldridge-Collins was Assistant Curate in the Benefice of Ilfracombe (Holy Trinity) (St Peter), Lee, Woolacombe, Bittadon and Morteohoe in the Diocese of Exeter, and currently lives at 22 North Point, 9 Severn Road, Gloucester, GL1 2LE.

The Bishop of Birkenhead will institute Mr Aldridge-Collins at a service by Zoom on Thursday 16th July 2020 at 7.30pm.

Opening for private prayer

From Monday 22nd June, St Oswald's is open for private prayer twice a week at the following times: Mondays 10.00am – 12 noon and Thursdays 12 noon – 2.00pm.

Please observe social distancing and hygiene guidance when you are in church. At this time we have no further news on resuming public worship. Any changes will be made public on our website peoverchurches.org.uk as they occur.

In our prayers:

We pray for the life of our parish as we emerge from lockdown:

For the staff and pupils of Lower Peover Primary School and the Little House Nursery.
For our congregations at St Oswald's and St Lawrence's as we plan for the future.
For Fr Murray as he takes up his role as Vicar.

We hold in our prayers all whose lives have been affected by Covid-19 crisis:

Those due to be baptised at our church but who have had to postpone the service.
Those planning to get married and have had to defer the celebration
Families who have been unable to spend time with loved ones in hospital or care homes.
All who are vulnerable, disabled or unwell.
All who have been bereaved in recent months.

O God, the protector of all who trust in you, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy:
increase and multiply upon us your mercy;
that with you as our ruler and guide,
we may so pass through things temporal that we lose not our hold on things eternal;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

(Prayer taken from Prayers for use during the coronavirus outbreak available at CofE.io/ChurchOnline)

In Remembrance:

We give thanks for the life of: Geoffrey Thomas Carter

Let light perpetual shine upon him and give him peace

Daily Hope phone line

Daily Hope offers music, prayers and reflections as well as full worship services from the Church of England at the end of a telephone line.

The line is free and available 24 hours a day on 0880 804 8044.

Caring for the bereaved

The Church of England in Chester Diocese is launching a programme of additional support for people experiencing a family bereavement.

Bereaved families can still arrange Church of England funerals and, in addition, families will be offered the opportunity to organise a memorial or remembrance service at a time when we can freely meet again.

In normal times, the vicar would discuss with a bereaved family exactly how they would like to say goodbye. They would meet with them in person and discuss which music, Bible readings, and prayers they would like.

Much of this has not been able to happen because of restrictions limiting the length of a funeral. Social distancing measures have also reduced the number of people able to attend, and family members have been unable to hug and console each other, adding to their grief.

The Acting Bishop of Chester, the Rt Revd Keith Sinclair says we are living through an incredibly difficult time but urges people to know that the Church is there for them, whatever they may have been through, wherever they are.

“We are living through a profound moment for our nation and the world, the effects of which will be felt for a long time to come. “But the Church remains a constant Christian presence in every community and an anchor of hope for many. I would wish for everyone to know that the Church is here for you. Talk to us, we can help”.

“Contact your local vicar if you would like to talk to us about arranging a funeral, memorial service or attending a remembrance service, and the Church is here for you if you simply want someone to listen to your story.”

At Lower Peover, our Reader, Ann Barlow, is also licensed for bereavement ministry and is available to conduct funerals, particularly at this time when we have no vicar. She can be contacted on 01565 722989 or by email at hannbarlow@btopenworld.com if you would like to talk to her.

As you prepare for the school holidays, remember that children are natural mimics. They act like us in spite of all our attempts to teach them good manners.

The Children's Society

Just before we went into lockdown, I announced in church that I was to be commissioned as Diocesan Ambassador for The Children's Society and several of you have asked me what that entails. So, I thought I would share with you what the role is and why I have taken it on.

Like many of you, I have got a house box where I collect loose change for the Children's Society. Sylvia Hankinson looks after them on behalf of St Oswald's Church, though I had had one long before I came to Lower Peover. I have also been to a fair share of Christingle services and had some lovely lunches to raise money for the society but I wanted to do a little bit more.

As you know, I used to work in education and I feel very strongly about helping young people to achieve all they are capable of. Sadly, what I have seen is that it can be easy for bright and able teenagers to fall by the wayside, more often than not as a result of circumstances outside their control. Those are the young people that The Children's Society is there for – youngsters in care, just leaving care or being the carer, children in overcrowded housing, families where money worries or illness is overwhelming, young runaways and unaccompanied refugees.

The aim of The Children's Society is to make sure that every child in this country has the greatest possible chance in life. That means understanding the causes of disadvantage and working to change the circumstances that lead to disadvantage. This can be by providing services which support young people directly or by lobbying politicians and decision makers to change systems.

As Diocesan Ambassador my role will be to talk to clergy and other people within the diocese asking for support and identifying opportunities for shared working. The Children's Society is a Church of England charity, though it serves children and young people of all faiths and none, so it is important that the church should feel connected. For me it is a way to volunteer my skills to support a cause I feel strongly about.

Unfortunately, due to the lockdown, I have not been able to achieve very much yet. The Children's Society though has been extremely busy providing support and resources for young people for whom social distancing has made life even more difficult. So, when I am able to meet with people again there will be plenty to talk about.

The queue

While waiting in a socially distanced queue early one morning for the supermarket to open for us 'seniors', I was surprised to see a young man saunter along and try to cut in at the front of the queue. A furious old lady waved her cane at him, and he quickly backed away.

A moment later, the young man tried again. He managed to dodge the old lady, but then two old men started shouting at him. Again, the young man backed away.

But he was not giving up, and soon the young man approached the queue for the third time. By now, all of us pensioners were ready for him, an angry wall of opposition.

The young man stood there for a moment, and then shrugged his shoulders. "If you people won't let me unlock the door, none of you will ever get in to shop."

Our Daily Bread

Give us we pray
The bread we need today.
Or, Lord, at least, provide us with some yeast!

We'll feast our eyes
To see the yeast-dough rise
No fun we lack when we then knock it back.

Once more it proves,
Then to the oven moves
And then we haste that nice fresh bread to taste!

Pancakes

A mother was preparing pancakes for her sons, Kevin, five, and Ryan, three. The boys began to argue over who would get the first pancake. Their mother saw the chance for a moral lesson. "If Jesus were sitting here, He would say, 'Let my brother have the first pancake, I can wait.'"

Quick as a wink, Kevin turned to his younger brother and said, "Ryan, you be Jesus!"

2nd July - St John Francis Regis – patron saint for relief workers

Do you ever admire relief workers? Those hardy folk who regularly appear on our TV screens, actively seeking out the disease-ridden, starving, destitute people of the world, instead of avoiding them, as most of us try and do.

John Francis Regis (1597 – 1640) could be a patron saint of relief workers. It all began back in the early 1600s when he was ordained a Jesuit priest in Toulouse, a town raging with plague. Instead of fleeing for his life, John Regis decided to stay and minister to the plague victims.

Somehow he survived, and was then sent by his bishop to do mission work in Pamiers and Montpellier. For years John taught and preached Christ's love, and also put it into action. He collected food for the hungry, clothing for the poor, visited prisoners, and even set up some homes for desperate ex-prostitutes.

In mid-September of 1640 John had a premonition of his approaching death. He took a three-day retreat in order to calmly prepare himself for it – and then he went back to work. Over Christmas, while helping the poor, he caught a chill. By 31st December he was dying of pneumonia, but at peace. He had been granted a vision of heaven, and could not wait to get there. His was a life well lived – he was “a good and faithful servant”.

Seagull

A father was at the beach with his children when the four-year-old son ran up to him, grabbed his hand, and led him to the shore where a seagull lay dead in the sand. "Daddy, what happened to him?"

"He died and went to heaven," the father replied.

The boy thought a moment and then asked: "Why did God throw him back down?"

I need to practice social-distancing – from my refrigerator.

On how to mix town and country – or not

My dear Nephew Darren

Your idea for our two churches to hold a combined New Year's Day walk was an admirable one, although I could sense a certain clash of cultures when your party arrived at the starting point with boots, waterproofs and GPS equipment. Our own group, rather anticipating tottering between tea shops, with a little light shopping in between, sported tweed suits, shopping bags and furled umbrellas.

Even the two sets of dogs seemed bemused with one another, with your Westies and King Charles spaniels making enough noise to scare all the wildlife in the county, and our Retrievers puzzled why the pheasants were not dropping from the sky. Dear Miss Mill's miniature poodle, with the painted toenails, will probably need life-long counselling; the furthest she had walked previously was from her bed to beside the dining room table.

The electronic navigation equipment brought by members of your group made me think that if only the wise men had had these blessings, they would not have had to follow anything as unreliable as a star. Although I suppose that instead of gold, frankincense and myrrh, they would then have arrived with an MP3 player, a mobile phone, which would have been obsolete before Jesus' first birthday, and a CD of Madonna's greatest hits.

I do concede that our two congregations learned much from one another. Our ladies were most interested to hear about the latest in personal trainers, while yours discovered how to bring a pan of jam to a rolling boil. Your men seemed impressed to hear of squirrel shooting while ours gathered useful tips for caravanning abroad. And poor Miss Mill's poodle learned that the great outdoors was a parallel and hostile universe.

By mid-afternoon, however, the balance of power shifted. When the leader of the walk from your group lost his SatNav, our members felt the need to assert themselves. The gentlemen navigated using wind direction, moss on trees and angles of the sun, while our ladies, with tweed skirts furled somewhat higher than one would have wished, showed yours how to wade through peat bog without complaining.

Perhaps town and country really can learn from one another. But if Major Baker's wife arrives for matins next Sunday sporting the latest gym gear, you will have much to answer for.

Your loving uncle, Eustace
